Delivery Date & Time Picker - Privacy Policy

Effective Date: May 22, 2026

1. Introduction

This Privacy Policy explains how Delivery Date & Time Picker by Lantera collects, uses, and protects information when merchants use the application with their BigCommerce stores.

2. Information We Collect

The app may access store-related information required for core functionality, including order information, delivery scheduling data, storefront configuration, and customer delivery selections.

3. How Information Is Used

Information is used solely to provide delivery date and time scheduling features, store configuration management, order delivery processing, customer-selected delivery scheduling, and related support services.

4. Data Storage and Security

Reasonable administrative, technical, and physical safeguards are implemented to help protect merchant and customer information from unauthorized access, disclosure, or misuse.

5. Data Sharing

Lantera does not sell merchant or customer personal information. Information may only be shared with trusted infrastructure or service providers when necessary to operate the application.

6. Merchant Control

Merchants may uninstall the application at any time through their BigCommerce admin panel. Upon uninstall, associated data may be deleted in accordance with operational and legal requirements.

7. Third-Party Services

The application may rely on secure third-party infrastructure providers for hosting, monitoring, analytics, and operational functionality.

8. Children's Privacy

The application is intended for business use and is not directed toward children.

9. Policy Updates

This Privacy Policy may be updated periodically to reflect operational, legal, or platform-related changes.
